

A BRIEF REPORT OF NACENA HOUSTON CHAPTER

By
Elder Ugwumba Njoku
President

HISTORY AND ORGANIZATION

NACENA – Houston Chapter was born out of the need to have more grass root presence and involve more individuals on a smaller locality and ensure better efficiency. As a result of this initiative, the NACENA National President, Dr. Charles Imo, and his team inaugurated the Houston Chapter in 2016.

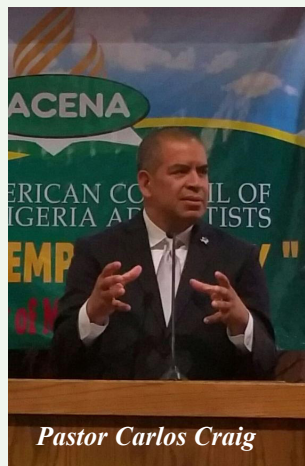

After the inauguration, the Houston chapter was up and running by setting up her own executive council in the persons of; Elder Ugwumba Njoku (President), Dr. Sunny Anyalebechi (Vice-President), Mr. Azu Onwudebe (Secretary), Ms. Peace Uhegwu (Treasurer), Mr. Okwudiri Onyemaechi (Financial Secretary), Mr. Ikechi Solomon (PRO) and Mr. Chigozirim Nwaogwugwu (Asst. Secretary).

ACTION POINTS

Since the inauguration, NACENA- Houston chapter has been able to set up a bank account for the organization, increased member interest and participation, constituted local bye-laws drafting committee, and Project committee, encouraged and reached out to NACENA younger generation by bridging the commitment gap.

NACENA- Houston chapter has consistently held general and executive meetings to keep members updated with the affairs of the association locally and nationally, which includes the involvement of her members in the annual NACENA medical mission and commitment to do much more in other areas. The only source of funding available to NACENA nation to NACENA medical mission project.

On behalf of NACENA Houston Chapter, I wish you all a memorable convention and journey mercies back to your respective destinations
God bless NACENA,
God bless Eastern Nigeria
God bless, USA.
